About This Game

FranknJohn is a horror inspired action roguelike, where your head is your weapon! Young FranknJohn is a failed experiment of a demented scientist, Dr Harmin. It's amazing to me such a great game mod is free, yet the quality still remains outstanding. Lots of hard work was put into this and it was clearly well-thought out.

I find the mod more challenging than the original game. Units die faster, artillery is more accurately-destructive, and the impressive maps included in the mod make it challenging to micro units over such huge expanses of beautiful map-making. Of course you have all your original maps but the included maps are a challenge.

I find the "Grand Offensive" mode the most fun because you have no pop cap and mass-attacking with hordes of infantry over no-man's land is always a gamble. The game has mortar/artillery gas shells and unique units that really make this mod an entirely new game.

I strongly urge you to download the mod -what do you have to lose besides your entire free time when you get addicted?

Great character skins, great maps, awesome units, and well-thought out doctrines and capabilities. Well done!. Thx for this game, now i hate PUGS :D. A delightful puzzle adventure, Lilly is a good mix of logic puzzles, soothing music and wonderful animation. Lilly's journey to save her brother reveals her to be resourceful and determined. The color themed puzzles require a bit more than the standard "combine this item and that one to move on" problems of this genre. The game's one drawback is its length - it ends long before you're ready to leave Lilly's world. Hopefully, this means there's a sequel or DLC in the works to expand the story further.. A good tool to make Animations.. This is the first vet game that I really enjoyed, taking the journey with Amy is really fun and exciting. I love all the characters, specifically Newton, he really makes the story better. I enjoyed getting all the achievements and building up the vet clinic to it's former glory, I love how the story relates to in real life to follow your dreams and achieving it. The story is rich and really fun to care for all the animals, but don't forget that pink puppy too. Recommended indeed!!! Great wave shooter...ranks with the others SPT...BOTU...Really polished and plays very nice. You get a good Ghostbusters feeling and catch on fast... I originally was very frustrated by this game, but I ended up loving it when I gave it a second try. It's not the easiest title in the series at all, so I don't recommend it for newer or even younger players, to be honest - but longtime Nancy fans will love it! I also liked the new style and format for gameplay, an update was MUCH needed - the ability to skip conversation is an absolute LIFESAVER. Highly recommended for more experienced players who aren't easily scared (I got a little creeped out playing it in the house alone at night).. great mixture of tower defence game with a 3 in a row puzzle - you have a cave that you need to protect from attacking sharks, theres a big octopus living in a cave, and he protects with the help of small octopuses you are moving in 4 rows by 4 columns puzzle field to stop the enemies and to eliminate them. first the game seems to be rather easy, but later you need to upgrade the skills and talents and to keep with time.

properly done, great mixture of game genres, why don't try it?. my friend shot himself trying to get $100
10/10 great game would buy again. what the ♥♥♥♥

It's a real stretch to call this mission an "Endless Challenge". It might be a challenge, but the 50 minute time means by definition, it isn't endless.. whats the point of this game?
you cant even ads with the rifle. It seems interesting but I cant get the game to work. Oh well, don't waste the money.. While I do like the game in theory, I ran into a number of issues. There's falling damage, where if you jump from a slightly higher spot to a lower spot, you risk killing yourself. And wrestling with the camera sucked out a lot of my interest in it. The camera was slow, sticky, and would only follow on its own if you were running. Overall, I think it's a charming game that would have been made much better if the camera followed you automatically.. A space exploration RPG in the vein of Starflight, Star Control and Subspace/Continuum offering about 10 hours of content as of this early access review. Already fun and engaging with lots of fresh ideas and new approaches to time tested gameplay mechanics. Already worth the price of admission, leaves me wanting more. Keep up the great work Wx3!. If you are looking for a narrative driven puzzle game, this is the game for you. It reminds me of "The Turing Test" or "Q.U.B.E", but I liked the narrative here better.. My first adventure into the Arctic went like this

- Escaped
- Went downstairs
- Ran
- Died

10V10 Would die again.
